President's Message

MilesTsuruoka, President

I joked at our February meeting that the large crowd, 60+ in attendance, was due to the new AITP president (me)! Of course, the truth to the matter was that it was our annual joint session with AIIM, The Association for Information and Image Management. As in the past, this 4th annual meeting was another huge success. Many thanks to Dennis Daley, CEO of Axean Pacific, who offered his thoughts on the future of XML, extensible markup language, in web publishing.

Your new Board of Directors, which for the 1st time in many years is completely staffed, is looking forward to building AITP-Honolulu into a strong and growing organization. One of the primary objectives will be to take care of internal business. That is, we need to make sure that we handle our own internal affairs promptly and professionally. That will provide the solid foundation from which to grow. I hope you will support the board and me in our efforts, by regularly attending our meetings and helping with one of our many open committee positions.

March Meeting

On March 14, Richard Stiennon, Research Director for Gartner Group will be presenting the topic: Security At The Speed Of E-Business. This presentation will cover current trends in security, as well as new imperatives for security and e-business. Richard Stiennon is a research director at Gartner Research where he covers security topics including firewalls, intrusion detection, security consulting and digital cash for the Networking group.

Did You Know???Recycle those PCs

Got old PC's that still work? Hate to have to toss them out? Television station KITV is maintaining a computer wish list on its web site (www.kitv.com) under it's Technology section. There are several schools and non-profit groups looking for used computers. Organizations wishing to be added can contact Dan Cooke

There is also the Computers for Schools program headed by Wes Koga. He's a teacher at Aiea Intermediate School and can be reached via phone at 485-5115 or email at weko1@yahoo.com.

If your equipment is beyond hope, monitors and CPU's are accepted for recycling at Island Recycling at 1811 Dillingham Blvd in Honolulu. Pick-up is available for a small fee.

Got news for Did You Know? Call George Leong at 486-8686.
