President's Message

Brian Malanaphy, President

For the last two years the AITP has partnered with the HTCA (Hawaii Telecommunications Association) to sponsor and produce the annual Technology Solutions Today (TST) Conference. I served as the co-chairperson of the first joint TST conference, and also served on the conference committee for last year's joint conference and although it was hard work, I enjoyed working on the committee and working with the HTCA committee members. This year, however, the HTCA has decided to produce their own conference, focused primarily on telecommunications technologies, and so there will be no joint AITP/HTCA conference this year. The AITP board is currently considering other options to produce our own conference or other event and possibly to partner with other local professional organizations. If you have any comments or suggestions please feel free to contact me. We support the HTCA in their decision to produce their own conference and look forward to potentially partnering with them again in the future.

I unfortunately missed May's luncheon meeting, but the feedback I heard was that it was a very informative presentation on wireless technologies and how the industry is maturing and the various technologies converging. Thanks go to Gartner Analyst Phillip Redman who made the presentation and also to Dale Aiello for scheduling it.

This month at our next luncheon, on June 16th at the Ala Moana Hotel, we are pleased to have Soren Burkhart, Senior Vice President and CIO of Aloha Airlines. He will discuss what steps can be done to revitalize an organization through technology improvement, and how the role of the CIO has evolved in today's economy.

This should be an informative and well attended event, so make your reservations early! Also, keep in mind that only early reservations (by AITP Members or Students) qualify for the discounted luncheon price of $10.

If you have any questions, concerns or suggestions please feel free to contact me. My email address is: brian@malanaphy.com
